Verasys To Offer State-of-the-Art e-Discovery Services

March 5, 2007, Miami Florida – Risk mitigation services specialist Verasys LLC announced today a strategic alliance with Fios Inc., the leading expert in electronic discovery and litigation readiness services. The agreement expands Verasys' computer forensics capabilities and its ability to deliver comprehensive e-discovery services to its worldwide client base. The new services now available through the Fios alliance include enhanced electronic evidence processing, review and production, including access to Fios' award-winning, web-based review platform, Prevail®.

The number of legal disputes involving the discovery of electronically stored information (ESI) is increasing daily. Successful litigation requires the ability to extract deleted ESI and quickly uncover and document the who, what, when and where of potentially relevant files. Verasys has already been providing the legal community with these electronic investigative services through its computer forensics practice. Through its new alliance with Fios, Verasys will now provide world-class e-discovery services to support large-scale litigation projects with review teams located in disparate locations. These services and access to Prevail will be made available on Verasys' extranet beginning March 15, 2007, to facilitate the sharing and reviewing of electronic documents and the production of evidence.

“After looking at other providers and having a solid understanding of our clients’ e-discovery needs, we felt Fios’ services best matched our criteria for an e-discovery partner. We’re not a software development shop; we’re a litigation support firm, so developing our own web-based review tool was never an option,” said Jesus Peña, Director of Computer Forensics, who oversees all electronic based investigations for national law firms and Fortune 500 clients.

“This alliance provides an end-to-end solution for our client’s discovery needs,” said Peña. “In addition, we expect our other practice areas to offer our e-discovery clients added value in part, through our risk mitigation advisory services.” he said.
